Program Description, Goals, Objectives

This two-day course is designed to address current issues related to the clinical practice, education, and research promoting the health of women and newborns. This program is designed to meet the needs of registered nurses, physicians, nurse practitioners, CNMS, PA's, health educators, dietitians, social workers, and others interested in the care of women and newborns. We hope you will plan to join with colleagues for this outstanding educational offering that will make a difference in the lives of women and their families.

For registered nurse, contact hours for CEU credits will be available through the Utah Nurses Association, an accredited approver for continued education by the ANCC.

The poster session "Evidence-Based Practice: From Research to Clinical Practice" will again be available at this year's conference.
